

THE FREE SILVER PARTY.

TELLER LOOKING UP HIS CHANCE FOR PRESIDENT.

The convention to be held in St. Louis on July 23-24, the Free Silver Party, has been mentioned in connection with the leadership of the proposed Free Silver party, and some of its enthusiastic admirers openly declare that it will be the Presidential candidate of that party in the coming campaign. The subject was freely commented upon at the Capitol today within the hearing of Mr. Teller, and he did not appear to be displeased at the suggestion. His independent declarations during the debate in the Senate yesterday to day with great interest and received the approval of his free silver followers, who joined in declaring that Teller shall be their standard bearer in the silver crusade. Senator Allen of Nebraska, the leader of the Populist party, has been secretly nursing the hope that a combination might be arranged between the Populists and the advocates of free silver. In that event he calculated that he might capture the Presidential nomination. Now that Senator Teller has loomed up so prominently, there is apparently no place on the ticket for Senator Allen, and he is contemplating, with semi-reluctance, a possible withdrawal from the race.

The silver Democrats of the South and West who were interviewed on the subject today openly declared that they will not vote with any party at the next election which presents a gold standard candidate, and they further assert that they are ready to break away from their old party ties by doing this. Some of the Democrats who talk this way come from South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Mississippi, and Tennessee, and they appear to be deeply in earnest. They are not, however, to be taken for granted. They are not, however, to be taken for granted. They are not, however, to be taken for granted.

The morning session of the Free Silver Conference was wholly given over to an acrimonious debate between the Populists and silver men. The discussion was provoked by the declaration of the former Congressman Hatch of Missouri, who in an impassioned speech had blamed the Populists for the defeat of that sterling silver advocate, Mr. Blackwell.

Former Vice-President candidate Field of the Populists, who had been in the audience, declared that he would not vote with the Democrats at the next election, and declared that he would not vote with the Democrats at the next election, and declared that he would not vote with the Democrats at the next election.

Senator Nathan of North Carolina repudiated the alleged facts set forth by Mr. Blackwell, and declared that he would not vote with the Democrats at the next election, and declared that he would not vote with the Democrats at the next election, and declared that he would not vote with the Democrats at the next election.

The committee on organization subsequently reported in favor of holding a convention in St. Louis on July 23-24, and the appointment of delegates based upon the silver strength ascertained from the American Bimetallic Union.

The silver men, who had been in the audience, declared that they would not vote with the Democrats at the next election, and declared that they would not vote with the Democrats at the next election, and declared that they would not vote with the Democrats at the next election.

Uncle Sam's Soldiers.

Appointments and Promotions—Various Bills Affecting the Military Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Nearly all the enlisted men who recently passed their examinations for the grade of Acting Hospital Stewards have been assigned to duty, and a number of more appointments of this sort later in the year.

The men who passed the examinations for the grade of Ordnance Sergeants are having their papers examined with a view to appointment. Both of these advancements are much coveted by enlisted men.

The decision on promotions to the grade of Second Lieutenant, requiring two years of preliminary service, is at this time may include fifteen days of furlough in all, and even the longer furlough authorized by the army regulations on special occasions.

The case, now favorably acted upon, of Gen. Coppinger, is being considered by the Senate Committee on Military Affairs for a long time. It interests more people than this officer and his immediate friends, as there are other nominations depending on this one, and among them those of half a dozen enlisted men. One of the not least steps taken by the Senate committee was that of asking the War Department for the records of all officers who were senior to Gen. Coppinger before his nomination to be Brigadier-General. A leading interest in the case has been taken by Senator Hale, who urged that Gen. Coppinger be promoted to the grade of Major-General, and that he be given a furlough of more than half of which was to be in the United States.

At the bottom of the trouble, it was explained that naturalization might have interfered with his interest in the case. It was explained that the case was being handled by Mr. Blaine and others. He had taken the oath of allegiance several times, and being continued as an officer, he was participating in the civil conflict in Italy was accepted by him being a professional soldier.

No fewer than five letters have been sent from the headquarters of the army by way of the War Department, and the committee is now working for improving the condition of the enlisted men while two others are for infantry and artillery organization. The committee is now working for improving the condition of the enlisted men while two others are for infantry and artillery organization.

Another bill prepared by Gen. Miles gives the artillery seven regiments of twelve batteries, with only one in each division, and a battery of four of two, as now. Still another gives the infantry regiments a battery of four of two, as now. Still another gives the infantry regiments a battery of four of two, as now.
